Investment20/20 has a responsibility to promote the welfare of all children and young people and keep them safe.

About Investment20/20

Investment20/20 helps people find out about careers in investment management. We work with schools, colleges, universities and community groups to enable young people to find out about careers in investment management and to help them navigate their way to entry level roles.

We work with young people in four ways:

1. Delivery of careers workshops to groups of young people aged from 11 years upwards in schools, colleges, universities, community venues, employer venues, and other spaces.
2. Through our longer-term programmes where we engage with young people on an ongoing basis, in both individual and group work settings.
3. Delivery of virtual activities such as online sessions, webinars, and video calls to young people, delivered in partnership with employers and industry volunteers
4. Through our Investment20/20 Trainee Programme, where young people over the age of 16 are employed by an Investment20/20 employer partner for a one-year contract.

Young people who participate in Investment20/20 activities 2,3 and 4 above are aged over 16. We engage with young people under the age of 16 through activity 1, above. Any of the young people with whom we work may be enrolled at a school sixth form, FE College, Sixth Form College or other education provider.

Types of abuse

It is important for any adult involved in working with Investment20/20 to have a good understanding of types of abuse. All adults involved in Investment20/20 have a role in identifying signs of abuse. In this policy "child" and "young person" are used interchangeably to mean any person under the age of 18.

The types of child abuse that may occur are extensive. It is the responsibility of each Investment20/20 member of staff to ensure they have read the briefing on the types of child abuse on the NSPCC website: <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/what-is-child-abuse/types-of-abuse/>.

In addition to types of abuse, we recognise that mental health is particularly important to the ages of the young people that Investment20/20 work with. More can be found here: <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/keeping-children-safe/mental-health-suicidal-thoughts-children/>.

All adults working with Investment20/20, in whatever capacity, should demonstrate exemplary behaviour. The following are common sense examples of how to create a positive culture and environment. These examples and guidelines apply to face to face delivery, online, virtual, and video calls.

- Be an excellent role model e.g. not smoking/drinking in the company of a young person
- Give enthusiastic and constructive feedback rather than negative criticism
- Administer first aid/other medical treatment when necessary, and report in line with the hosting organisation's/venue's policy and procedure, and inform Investment20/20

- Do not say or do anything that might be interpreted as aggressive or hostile
- Do not do things of a personal nature for young person at an Investment20/20 event or programme student that they can do for themselves

Investment20/20 events (face to face)

Investment20/20 has a duty of care towards young people who are participating in our organised events. This duty of care covers the duration of the event from the designated meeting point until the event finishes. Investment20/20 is responsible for obtaining from the venue, a risk assessment for the visit.

When a teacher or other school/college/university/community group representative is attending with young people, the young people remain in the duty of care of the school/college/university/community group. Investment20/20 will provide a risk assessment of the venue but it is expected that the school/college representative takes full responsibility for their students for the entire duration of the visit.

When students attend an event independently of the school/college/university/community group, Investment20/20 expects students to travel to the event by themselves and manage the planning and funding of their journey independently of Investment20/20.

Investment20/20 will endeavour to gain emergency contact details for each young person that attends an event, and will call a parent/carer should a young person become unwell or if there is a concern regarding their welfare. Investment20/20 accepts no responsibility for personal belongings brought by students to events.

Investment20/20 follows a guideline of one member of staff for every 20 students. These members of staff may include adults from the hosting organisation who support the event.

Investment20/20 events (virtual, online, video calls)

Our online, virtual and video call events are always chaired and managed by Investment20/20. Where we have employers supporting, they are never taking part without the supervision of Investment20/20. Our online, virtual and video call events are for sixth form and university students only. They are always group based – never one to one. Students in sixth form need to submit a parental / carer permission form before taking part in any virtual, online or video call activities.

Communication

Any adult representing Investment20/20 must ensure that all communication is transparent and open to scrutiny.

Investment20/20 staff must use their Investment20/20 mobile or office phone to contact young people, and NOT their personal phone number. If their Investment20/20 phone is damaged, not working or lost, and staff must call a young person, then they may use their personal phone but ensure their number is blocked and do not share their personal number with the young person. Staff may only communicate with young people on social media via the official Investment20/20 social media outlets or their own LinkedIn account (no other social media platforms) but their contact details must be hidden. Any email communication must take place on the Investment20/20 email account and NOT personal email accounts.

Investment Ambassadors

Investment Ambassadors are volunteers who support the delivery of Investment20/20 careers sessions (face to face, virtually, online or video calls). Investment Ambassadors must not actively seek contact with young people after their session. Investment Ambassadors must follow all the guidelines in this document.

Photography and film

Investment20/20 will take photos and films at our events, which could be either Investment20/20 organised events or a partner organisation event. Young people will be asked to agree to their image/footage being used as part of the registration process for the event where it is Investment20/20 organised – this includes our face to face, and online, virtual and video call events and programmes. Where it is a partner organised event, it is the partner organisations responsibility to obtain consent for photography and film.
